

U. S. may sign pact without Saigon?

Kissinger, Reds resume talks

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger met twice today with top North Vietnamese negotiators as they sought a final agreement to end the Vietnam war.

After a restricted morning session in a villa near North Vietnamese headquarters in the southern suburb of Choisy le Roi, a larger afternoon meeting was held in the village of Sainte Gemme to the west of Paris.

The morning session lasted 2½ hours. The afternoon talks started at 4 p.m. The Florida White House announced that the conversations will continue Tuesday.

President Nixon's top foreign affairs adviser arrived Sunday night from Washington. He gave no indication of what he would propose to Tho, the Hanoi Politburo member Kissinger has been meeting with secretly during the past year.

They held their last meeting Nov. 25 and recessed their talks until today.

In the interim, a special emissary from President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, Nguyen Phu Duc, visited Washington for meetings with President Nixon and Kissinger. Reports circulated in the U.S. capital that they told Duc North Vietnam would make no more concessions, and the U.S. government would delay no longer in signing the cease-fire agreement. Kissinger and Tho worked out in October.

Saigon has been insisting that any agreement include a guarantee that North Vietnam withdraw all its troops from the South. But North Vietnamese officials insist the document be signed in its original form.

Dispatches from Saigon have indicated the South Vietnamese government may now be resigned to seeing a cease-fire agreement signed. Premier Tran Thien Khiem has told Cabinet members and high-level department heads to prepare for this eventuality.

The official North Vietnamese newspaper Nhan Dan said Sunday that Vietnam is one country and demanded an end to U.S. influence in the South. It accused the United States of disregarding a pledge to respect the Vietnamese people's right to self-determination, and called the Saigon government's insistence on North Vietnamese troop withdrawals insolent, adding: "To satisfy these demands would mean to annul the agreement and prolong the war...."

Apollo countdown running smoothly

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Free of a strike threat, preparations for the last Apollo flight to the moon went on a clockwork schedule today for Wednesday's night launching.

"I'm very happy to report that there will be no strike," said Bernard Mamet, attorney for 60 aerospace workers whose proposed walkout in the final days threatened to wash out the liftoff.

Astronauts Eugene A. Cernan, Ronald E. Evans and Harrison N. Schmitt, sleeping later each day to adjust for an afternoon wakeup for the 9:53 p.m. EST launch, were to run through procedures for an emergency abort on the launch pad today.

Later in the day, Cernan and Schmitt were to rehearse in a mock lunar lander, while Evans worked in a commandmodule simulator and on orbital geology.

Cernan and Schmitt will land the craft named Challenger on the moon next Monday. Evans will remain aboard the command craft, America, conducting experiments from 60 miles overhead during the three days his comrades are on the moon.

"Boeing apparently opted out that discretion was the better part of valor, and they took our final proposal," said Mamet, attorney for the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees (IATSE), which represented the 60 nonunion workers.

The strike threat came from documentation workers who do such tasks as illustration, photography and technical writing under a Boeing Co. support services contract. Their work is not essential to launch activities, but there was the danger of more critical personnel honoring their picket lines.

But, in Houston, Tex., 80 employees of a contractor at the Manned Spacecraft Center voted to strike Sunday night and form picket lines which could idle another 400 space workers.

However, space agency officials said the strike would have "no impact" on the Apollo 17 flight.

Large quakes reported in Pacific area

TOKYO (AP) — A powerful earthquake shook Japanese islands in the Pacific and metropolitan Tokyo today damaging roads and disrupting telephone service. There were no reports of casualties.

Early reports from Hachijo Island, near the center of the temblor, said roads were destroyed in several places and that the 10,000 inhabitants fled their homes. Hachijo is about 200 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Police said telephone service on the island was disrupted, and officials of All Nippon Airways said the island was blacked out as power lines were cut in places.

Commuter trains in the metropolitan Tokyo area were halted for 15 minutes by the earthquake which rattled windows and toppled flower vases. Japan National Railways said it halted service for an hour on its high-speed train between Tokyo and Osaka in western Japan.

The quake measured 7.4 on the Richter scale, according to officials at the National Earthquake Information Center in Boulder, Colo. Any earthquake registering above 4.5 on the Richter scale is considered potentially dangerous.

The earthquake lasted about three minutes and was the second large disturbance monitored in the Pacific in three days. Friday night, an earthquake that measured 7.7 on the Richter scale was monitored off the coast of the Philippines.

A small tidal wave hit the Japanese mainland south of Tokyo, but officials of Japanese Meteorological Agency said there were no possibilities of another tidal wave.

Investigators probe tragic air crash; 155 persons die

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, Canary Islands (AP) — A holiday for European tourists ended in disaster Sunday when their homeward-bound jetliner crashed moments after takeoff, killing all 155 persons aboard. Most of the dead were Germans.

Witnesses said the Convair 990A, owned by the Spanish charter airline Spantax, got only 300 feet off the runway before one of its four engines burst into flames and the plane crashed on this Atlantic island off North Africa.

Spantax officials said there was no reason to suspect sabotage, but the airline said it was investigating the possibility.

The dead included 143 West Germans on a trip organized by a bus owners' association in Bavaria, three Austrians, two Italians and seven Spanish crew members.

It was Spanish aviation's worst disaster, the fourth worst crash in aviation history and the seventh this year in which more than 100 persons died. The worst crash in aviation history occurred in October outside Moscow when 176 persons were killed in the crash of a Soviet jetliner.

The only victim of the crash found alive was a young woman who kept repeating: "Save me, save me." Police said she died within minutes of reaching a hospital.

Officials said the victims were badly burned and mutilated.

A German team of 20 government officials, including five fingerprint experts, flew into Santa Cruz late Sunday to help with the identification of bodies and the investigation of the crash.

Defense budget increase slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today the budget for the Pentagon in the next fiscal year will be increased to more than $80 billion.

The secretary told newsmen as he prepared to leave for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meetings in Brussels after an increase in Pentagon spending is necessary to maintain Western strength and to enhance negotiating positions.

Commissioners eye pending suit

County dog license fees are increased

The Fayette County Board of Commissioners Monday morning by unanimous vote increased dog and kennel license fees for 1973, held a conference with the county prosecutor concerning an impending lawsuit against the commissioners and established by formal resolution a trust fund to handle federal revenue sharing when it is received.

The Board of Commissioners, at its meeting a week ago, was notified by developer Jess Gilmore through his attorney, that a suit is contemplated against the commissioners concerning their refusal to grant approval to two proposed subdivision plats located at the intersection of Ohio 41 and Inskeep Road.

The commissioners twice have rejected the plats for Jeffrey Estates No.1 and No.2 on several grounds, mainly on the grounds that Gilmore has failed to submit adequate drainage plans.

Gilmore has until Dec. 9 to file the suit, according to statutory requirements.

THE BOARD unanimously increased from $2 to $4 the amount to be charged in 1973 for dog licenses and from $10 to $20 for kennel licenses. Each kennel license allows the issuance of five dog licenses at no extra charge.

According to state statute, dog and kennel license fees may be increased by the commissioners only when the county dog fund has been depleted for the purposes of paying administration and animal claim costs, and then only in multiples of $2 for licenses and $10 for kennel permits.

According to Chairman Robert Mace, the dog fund currently is about $2,000 in the red with another large animal claim yet to be paid.

THE BOARD also acknowledged receipt of a letter from Bernard B. Hurst Jr., district deputy director, Ohio Department of Transportation, informing the commissioners that corrective action is being taken at the Palmer Road - U.S. 35 intersection to make it more safe for traffic.

The board has recommended that a "stop ahead" sign be placed on Palmer Road in advance of the intersection and that a reflectorized arrow sign be placed at the intersection to warn approaching motorists of the "T" intersection.

Costly suite not used; good publicity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Holiday Inn, with rooms for the masses, offers something a little different for travelers near here: a $1,400-per-night suite with everything from servants' quarters to scotch and martinis on tap.

The three-bedroom, four-bath suite has everything, in fact, but paying guests.

The operators of the inn in suburban Gaithersburg, Md., aren't unduly distressed that no oil sheik has yet trod the $3,700 oriental rug, or that no international financier has ever propped his impeccably shod feet on the $5,300 desk.

This sweetest of suites has been a publicity gold mine from its circular bed to its olympic-sized Roman bath.

"It's definitely helped our business," says innkeeper William Dunmore, noting particularly the luncheon trade. Sightseers sometimes number 40 a day, he says.

They are told that limousine and 24-hour maid service are included in the price, and all food and drink, of course. There's also the cedar-lined sauna, the board room complete with decanter of brandy and the Chippendale furniture.

All in all, there's a lot of floor space and about $200,000 tied up in furnishings and appointments, says Dunmore.

Oil well rig catches fire

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An oil well being drilled off the Louisiana coast blew out Sunday night, and a large drilling platform burst into flames. A spokesman for the Pennzoil Production Co. said there was no danger of pollution in the water.

The crew was evacuated before the blowout, a company official said in Houston, Tex. He said a crew was en route to the rig today to map strategy for capping the well.

The well was spewing gas, not oil, the Pennzoil spokesman said, and therefore there was no danger of water pollution.

Nixon seeks 'more Kissingers'

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon, moving ahead with plans to reorganize the federal government, seems bent on finding more Henry A. Kissingers to act as chief aides in handling problem areas.

As Nixon neared the end of a long weekend stay here, some observers felt he set the reorganization pattern Friday when he created a new Council on Economic Policy and announced Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz will head it with broad powers to coordinate economic powers, foreign and domestic.

Talking to newsmen at Camp David, Md., last week, Nixon promised sizable cuts in the White House staff, declaring that cabinet members would assume many functions formerly performed by people on the White House payroll. Apparently in line with that statement, Shultz was appointed an assistant to the President as part of his new responsibilities. The treasury chief told reporters he will have the office in the White House as well as in the department he heads.

Although there has been talk that Kissinger may have overplayed his hand as Nixon's No. 1 diplomatic negotiator, there has been no sign from the White House that the former Harvard University professor has lost any degree of favor with the chief executive.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler announced Saturday that Kissinger — with such top Nixon aides as H. R. Haldeman, John E. Ehrlichman and the press secretary himself — will remain on the job "in the second term."

intersection. Hurst said the state also is constructing a through traffic lane on U.S. 35 for northbound traffic.

Plan standards for gasoline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency soon will issue regulations to make lead-free gasoline available in time for 1975-model autos and their lead-hating antipollution devices, agency sources say.

But a planned reduction of lead in all grades of gasoline probably will be postponed for further public discussion, and thus postponed for about a year.

Once the review is completed, however, EPA may extend its original proposal into a complete phaseout, leaving no leaded gasoline on the market at all.

EPA last Feb. 22 proposed that 65 percent of the nation's service stations be required to sell at least one grade of lead-free gasoline by July 1, 1974 — that is, a 91-octane gasoline containing no more than 0.05 grams of lead per gallon.

Sources said EPA is sticking to this regulation and will issue it officially, despite oil-industry complaints that it is too tough.

While petroleum spokesmen argued for a more lenient standard in public hearings last March, automakers testified a few blocks away that their cars could meet 1975 antipollution standards only if gasoline lead is held to the EPA limit or lower.

Meanwhile, after EPA scientists said lead in auto exhaust could pose a health hazard, the agency proposed a phasedown beginning July 1, 1974, with a limit of 2.0 grams of lead per gallon.

The plan would have brought the lead level down, in steps, to 1.25 grams per gallon by Jan. 1, 1977.

But the EPA health study was criticized and a new study was conducted. And EPA experts say the new study reinforces their original conclusion.

Dayton policemen to continue talks

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Local 44 of the Fraternal Order of Police has agreed to continue contract talks with city and not to stage a strike over pay demands.

The city's 412-man police force has been without a contract for nearly a year. All but 12 policemen are members of Local 44.

Senate vote nearing on crime code

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An omnibus criminal code revision containing 33 amendments to the House-passed version heads for a Senate floor vote this week, but a sponsor of the bill predicts trouble.

Rep. Robert Levitt, R-91 Canton, who co-sponsored the bill with Rep. Alan Norris, R-59 Westerville, said the focus of the capital punishment amendment is bad.

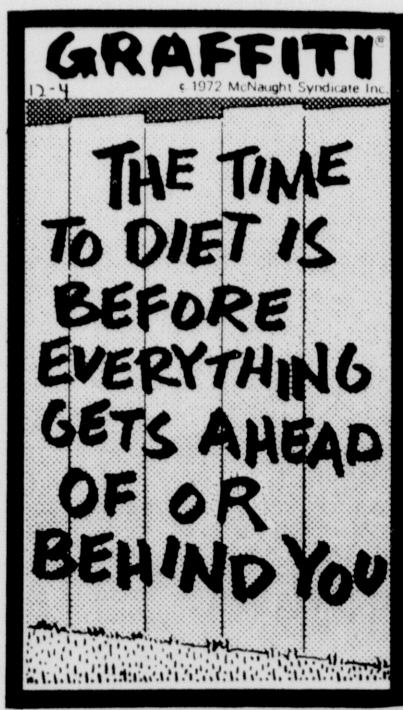

The amendment would permit Ohio to keep the death penalty for certain situations and was designed to sidestep a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision that the death penalty is unconstitutional as applied in some states.

Levitt charged that capital punishment is "an academic question" in Ohio. He said, "We haven't had an execution in Ohio since March 1963. There are many much more important things in that bill than capital punishment."

Because of the 33 amendments to the House-passed measure, Levitt said, "It will definitely go to a conference committee."

The conference committee's job will be to settle the differences in the bills passed by each house.

Police, sheriff probing residential burglaries

City police and sheriff's deputies investigating six house burglaries which occurred in the Belle-Aire and nearby suburban district sometime Sunday evening. The burglar, or burglars, ransacked the homes but made off with less than $200 in loot, most of it in change and old coins.

Officers said the burglaries were similar in nature to those which occurred in the Eastview Addition several weeks ago.

Homes burglarized were those of Joe Loudner, 629 Fairway Dr.; Robert S. Rochester, 634 Albin Ave.; Robert Stauffer, 971 Ohio 41-S; Tony Capuana, 176 Magnolia Dr.; Ralph W. Hyer, 60 Hawthorne Dr., and Thomas Davis, 185 Hawthorne Dr.

Officers said old coins valued at from $125 to $150 were taken from the Stauffer home and about $66 in coins was also removed from the Hyer residence. A small amount of change was also missing from the Capuana house.

The window glass at the rear doors to all six of the homes had been knocked

Christmas Seal collections lag

Four weeks after the Christmas Seal campaign was started by the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association, a total of $4,097.50 has been contributed by 1,544 individuals and business firms, Mrs. Robert Goodson, executive secretary, said. The campaign is slightly behind that of last year while, she pointed out, the need to fight tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases is increasing. Social Security disability payments for emphysema (a respiratory disease) are near the top of the list, she said.

Reminders are being mailed, stressing that it is still not too late to send a contribution to Post Office box 547.

A critic of the regulation, Stae Rep. Raymond Luther, R-19 Newark, has proposed a revision that would allow burning of leaves, tree trimmings and household trash.

Luther said the ban is a case of environmentalists "going too far." He added that he expects to get his bill of the committee on Wednesday.

Deny Russians re-enter Egypt

NEW YORK (AP) — Egyptian Foreign Minister Mohammed el-Zayyat says there are "no more than hundreds" of Soviet advisers and technicians left in Egypt.

El-Zayyat, appearing on ABC's television show "Issues and Answers" Sunday, denied reports that Russians — thousands of whom left the country earlier this year at Cairo's request — were returning to Egypt in significant numbers.

The Egyptian official, during a television interview, said his government had decided that such Soviet personnel "are not of any use to us in trying to get back our territorial integrity."

$200,000 injury trial under way

A jury trial to decide a $200,000 lawsuit filed against a Fayette County man by Columbus brothers got under way in Fayette County Common Pleas Court Monday morning with proceedings to seat a jury.

E. D. and Thomas E. Kimball, both of Columbus, filed the joint action against Frank Helsel, Rt. 6, in which they both seek judgments of $50,000 in compensatory damages and like amounts in punitive damages.

A separate action was filed in the same court by Helsel against the Kimballs on Sept. 19 seeking judgment of $35,000 in compensatory and $65,000 in punitive damages. In that complaint, which has not yet come to trial, Helsel alleges that the Kimballs published a letter in which they accused him of removing property from a truck which did not belong to him, thereby damaging his reputation.

Red communication lines hit by American warplanes

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes made heavy bombing attacks against enemy communication lines in an attempt to curb the resupply of North Vietnamese troops fighting a government counteroffensive just below the demilitarized zone, U.S. Command sources reported today.

U.S. pilots flew 315 tactical air strikes against Communist targets in South Vietnam, more than half of them in northernmost Quang Tri Province, the U.S. Command announced.

Air Force and Navy fighterbombers also were reported to have flown more than 90 missions Sunday against Communist supply routes in North Vietnam, destroying 15 trucks as they moved south toward the battlefield.

In a delayed report, the Air Force announced an F4 Phantom jet "apparently crashed due to unknown causes" while on a flight from its base in Thailand to Da Nang Air Base Nov. 28. The two crewmen were listed as missing.

Milledgeville Council seat now 'vacant'

MILLEDGEVILLE — Village Council has lost one of its six members through the attendance rule adopted at the organizational meeting last January.

Under that rule, the councilman who misses two meetings in a row or three in a year is automatically out. Tom Anderson missed the third meeting of the year Saturday, and his seat was declared vacant.

Now the village is looking for his successor. Mayor Johnny Dale Blair said anyone interested in taking Anderson's seat should notify either him or Anderson's brother, Larry Anderson, for consideration at the next Council meeting.

The word around town is that the ex-councilman is not happy about the ouster and may contest the rule. Mayor Blair said simply "that's the rule we adopted, and that's all there is to it." He admitted that Anderson has been at odds with some of Council's actions, especially the tree trimming, but insisted this was not the reason he was dropped.

MAYOR BLAIR said he hopes several residents interested in the town will volunteer to take Anderson's place and added "it should be someone who wants to make Milledgeville a better place in which to live . . . it sure wouldn't be for the salary." Councilmen received $5 a month and the mayor $7. Salaries were paid at the Saturday meeting.

Council spent much of the meeting going over what had been accomplished in the past year. Mayor Blair said "we're all new at this business and we made some mistakes through lack of experience; so we'll make some changes from now on."

The village cleanup campaign has been the primary project of Council in its first year. Mayor Blair reminded that considerable progress has been made and said "there is still a lot to do."

The cleanup of the debris following the Dill elevator fire two years ago has been a continuing target of the community betterment program. L.J. Dill, of Columbus, the owner, put up $1,000 at a municipal Court hearing as a guarantee that the rubble would be cleaned up. Mayor Blair said "I've got to admit he has been working at it, but he's not making much progress."

Another hearing is set for Dec. 11 in Municipal Court, apparently to check on the cleanup progress. Mayor Blair said he hopes residents of the village will attend the hearing to give their impressions of the cleanup progress.

Freeway air said dangerous

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Freeways harbor enough air pollution during rush hours to seriously endanger the health of heart-disease victims, a study shows.

South Vietnamese marines and paratroopers have been inching north to retake territory lost in the early days of the Communist invasion in April. But monsoon weather has brought the drive in Quang Tri Province almost to a standstill.

More than 50 B52s dropped up to 1,000 tons of bombs on Communist troop concentrations and staging areas in Quang Tri during the 24 hours ending at noon, the U.S. Command reported.

Sharp fighting was reported for the second straight day around Kontum City in the Central Highlands, where government infantrymen clashed repeatedly with enemy units moving on the Ngo Trang base camp.

Government forces, backed by artillery and air strikes, were reported to have killed 62 enemy troops in battles in the vicinity of the camp six miles northwest of Kontum. Government casualties were put at two killed and seven wounded.

Airbag fails in collision; man injured

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ford Motor Co. investigators say they have finished collecting data here on an experimental airbag which failed to inflate during a traffic accident here.

About 25 of the air-bag-equipped vehicles are being tested in the Cleveland area, among some 800 being tested nationally. The airbags are designed to inflate upon impact, cushioning a driver and passengers against possible injury.

Donald W. Behrens, 48, an executive with the Eaton Corp. here which designed the airbags, was driving the air-bag-equipped vehicle when he skidded it into a parked truck. Although police said the car was completely demolished, the investigators said it was apparently moving too slowly to inflate the bags.

Eaton and Ford spokesmen said they plan to issue a report on the incident Wednesday.

Behrens suffered facial cuts in the mishap.

Jensen tracts sell at auction

A 493-acre farm on Ohio 41, immediately north of the Washington C. H. corporation line — a part of the Einar Jensen estate — brought $540 an acre at trustee's sale Saturday.

The farm, which includes a five-room frame house, a 30-by-60 foot concrete block machinery building and 125-by-50 pole barn, was purchased by Frances and Leo Dunlap, of Zanesville, for a total of $266,414.40.

The county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service lists a 59-acre conserving base, 19.7-acre wheat base, 127-acre corn base and 33-acre barley base. The farm also includes 200 acres of pasture and small wooded area. Paint Creek flows through much of the farm, which fronts 6,800 feet on the highway.

Also sold at auction Saturday was a stucco-brick house on a 4.66-acre tract, Ohio 41 in Union Township at the northern edge of the city corporation, which also was part of the Jensen estate. It went to Gerald R. and Bette E. Creamer, of Washington C. H., for $20,300.

David Six is the trustee and Robert B. West was the auctioneer.

In India, even men from neighboring villages may not understand one another. Indians speak more than 800 languages and dialects.

Elks name leadership winners

Two Washington Senior High School seniors, who placed first in the county in the Elks Lodge youth leadership contest will receive $50 U. S. savings bonds from the local lodge and have been entered in the state competition.

One and one girl were selected for top honors in the county. The winners were Mike Domenico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Domenico, 137 River Rd., and Cynthia Mustine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Bud) Mustine, 609

Charlotte Ct.

Two Miami Trace High School students were the runners-up. Gerald Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Reid, Rt. 1, Mount Sterling, and Lynne Rapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rapp, Rt. 1, New Holland, each will receive a $25 U. S. savings bond.

The young leaders were chosen for their participation in school, church and community activities and their academic achievements.

The competition was open to all high school students, who wanted to enter by submitting a substantiated list of their activities. The competition had 10 entrants here this year.

The lists of leadership activities submitted by Mike and Cynthia will be sent on to the Elks Lodge state headquarters for judging Dec. 28. The results of the state competition will be announced May 5 at the state Elks Association meeting in Dayton. The state winners will be entered in the national competition.

Antarctic biologists are rescued

SCOTT BASE, Antarctica (AP) — Raw penguin meat may not be a gourmet's delight. But for an American and three New Zealanders there was not much else to eat for five days while they jumped from one crumbling ice floe to another and worried about a nearby killer whale.

An iceberg also rammed them once. Finally a U.S. Navy helicopter rescued James Kenneth Lowry, 30, Richmond, Va., and the three other marine biologists Sunday. They were treated for fatigue, frostbite and snow blindness at McMurdo Station.

The engine on their boat had stopped Wednesday, and they drifted into pack ice.

Lowry said they had some food in the boat, but it soon ran out and they had to capture a penguin and eat it. The boat was abandoned when they had to jump from floe to floe as the ice broke up while lashed by waves and a southerly wind.

The men joked and sang to keep warm and their spirits up. To keep from freezing, Lowry said, they took turns patrolling around their floe.

They saw a plane Friday night and fired flares to attract attention, but they were not noticed. A British air force transport on its way to New Zealand saw them Sunday and called the rescue helicopter.

Control of the purse strings

It is part of the conventional wisdom about Congress to say that the greatest source of that body's power lies in its control of the purse strings. That control is far from absolute. A president may thwart the congressional will, if he chooses, by not spending all that Congress authorizes for a given purpose.

Generally presidents do this, if they do it at all, under the rubric of holding down the cost of government and avoiding the need for higher taxes. A chief executive may have other motivations, however; he may, whatever he says in public, use his power to alter congressional priorities in line with his own preferences. That is, he may advance a favorite program and hold back others that do not suit him by manipulation of appropriated funds.

Whether or not this is an unwarranted exercise of executive power is open to question. It is a matter that ought to be discussed, particularly since President Nixon has shown a strong inclination to withhold some spending that Congress has authorized.

The point is illustrated in the White House announcement regarding allocation of funds for construction of municipal waste treatment facilities. This is provided for in the Federal Water Pollution Control Act which Congress enacted last October over a presidential veto. In fiscal 1973 the administration proposes to spend only about 40 per cent of what Congress authorized; in fiscal 1974 about 50 per cent of the authorization.

President Nixon sought to justify this contravention of the will of Congress in this passage of a letter to Environmental Protection Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus: "I stated that even if the Congress were to default its obligation to the taxpayers through enactment of this legislation, I would not default mine." Nothing is said of the government's obligation, asserted by Congress in overriding the veto, to undertake the massive catchup program on water pollution control which circumstances demand.

Here we have another of the points at which the constant tug of war between the executive and legislative branches for ascendancy is in evidence. The situation is a reminder that the whole matter of whether Congress does indeed have practical control of the purse strings should be explored.

"JUST AS A PRECAUTION, SENATOR, THE NEXT TIME THE INDIANS COME TO WASHINGTON WE CALL JOHN WAYNE."

Those performance tests

It is a not uncommon experience to feel that so-called achievement tests given in public school have not provided an accurate picture of this or that child's capabilities. When due allowance has been made for parental mind-set in favor of offspring, a considerable nub of objection remains: there often do appear to be discrepancies between what tests show about a child's general performance and "grade level," and the child's true educational status.

Dr. Margaret Mead put the point a good deal more bluntly, and perhaps with correspondingly greater accuracy, in a recent interview. Measuring school children's supposed educational achievements by the sort of tests customarily given, she said, is "stupid and abominable."

Dr. Mead expressed her views so well that it seems best to quote her directly, to wit: "You can test whether they know the alphabet or whether their penmanship is good, but you cannot test a child's imagination, his sensitivity, his sense of relationship to the world." Moreover, "The idea that you can have tests to measure what a child has learned in English literature or anything else that matters is incredibly stupid."

Hidebound educators may be outraged. Educators with broader perception and more flexibility might say, in effect: No one pretends to precise measurement of qualities - imagination, sensitivity, sense of relationship to the world - which admittedly do not lend themselves very well to question-and-answer analysis. This gets down to the heart of the matter.

The performance and grade level tests have their place; they can provide data useful in giving some idea of how a child stands in relationship to his peers. The tests should just not be made to carry a greater freight of meaning than they can bear.

From The Files

25 YEARS AGO

Memorial services for deceased members of Washington C.H. Lodge No. 129, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, were held in the Elks lodge room.

From "Fifteen Years Ago": Eggs, grade A, 31 cents; grade B, 28 cents. Washington C.H. teachers Mrs. Ruth H. Hopkins and Dr. Ruth C. Teeters authored case studies that appeared in a National Education Association publication, "Spiritual Values in the Elementary Schools."

Rehearsals were held throughout the week in preparation for performances of the variety show, "Fun for You," sponsored by Paul H. Hughey Post No. 25 of the American Legion. Participating in the show were Maynard Craig, John Case, Corwin Carr, Winston Hill, Carl Wilt and his Hayshakers, Robert Minshall, Max Dice, Dick Steen, Vic Smith, Clarence Hackett, seventh and eighth grade girls from Washington Junior High School, a children's group led by Sarah Keck, Audry Scholl, Fulton Alkire, Nancy Devins, Mrs. Darrell Williams and Bob Hook. Miss Pat Owens was the director.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Richard Willis and Willis Willis, brothers and former Washington High School athletes, were named to the all-Ohio Conference "mythical eleven." They played on the Denison University football team, "Dick" at tackle and "Pete" at quarterback.

The one main street in Sabina was closed to traffic while being paved and the detour around was some six miles long.

The Williamsport Bearcast defeated the Washington Independents by the score of 13 to 12 at Eastside Park.

Nearly 1,000 feet of moving pictures showing the chase and the bench show of the National Fox Hunters Association held in this city recently was exhibited at the Colonial Theatre.

Funeral services were held for Shepard Keller, well-known farmer of the Egypt neighborhood.

Fowler V. (Chick) Harper, coach of athletics at Wilmington College for the past two years, announced his resignation.

Mable Whitmore, Marjorie Lemons, Nellie Dixon, Louise Ritter, Dorothy Hall, Thomas Braden and Elmer Haymaker joined other youngsters in a special B & O car bound for Columbus. They were prize winners in the Boys and Girls Clubs and were to be entertained in Columbus for one week by Ohio State University.

Reporters and the right to know

The Columbia Broadcasting System seems hell-bent on proving some sort of government conspiracy against the news media, both electronic and plain old-fashioned printed journalism. The CBS president, Richard Salant, has done his best — or worst — to convince the public that Edith Efron's quantitative study of TV coverage of the 1968 election, which alleged a startling pro-Humphrey favoritism and proceeded to prove it statistically, was part of a wider campaign of press intimidation.

More recently William J. Small of CBS News in Washington has linked the judiciary to the supposed government drive to subvert the freedom of speech guarantee of the First Amendment.

Meanwhile, the Republican governor of Connecticut, "Tough Tommy" Meskill, has been taking off on the press. Reporters, he told the students at a meeting of the Yale Political Union, have no right to protect their sources of information when the police or the courts come looking for evidence of wrongdoing.

IMPLICIT in the Meskill stand is a belief in the primacy of the "equal protection" clause of the Constitution, which, if it is meticulously applied, would deny to reporters any right that is not possessed, say, by professors or historians. In the Meskill view, if the right to freedom of speech under the First Amendment is absolute for the press, it must, under the judicial doctrine of equal protection, be absolute for everybody. Does not the Constitution assure us that the privileges and immunities of the citizen shall be equal?

The reason we get into a mare's nest when we try to untangle the skeins of the law is primarily due to conflicts between various Constitutional amendments. The Fourteenth Amendment, which, by implication, denies to the states the right to make their own laws governing such things as school prayer and the subsidization of parochial schools, makes the "freedom of religion" guarantee of the First Amendment into an absolute.

The courts have so interpreted the law. But when it comes to the freedom of speech guarantee of the First Amendment, the courts deny that it has the absolute validity accorded to the religious guarantee.

In California, William Farr, a reporter for the Los Angeles Times, was jailed for refusal to disclose the source of his information about the alleged intentions of the "family" of Charles Manson to kill Hollywood figures other than actress Sharon Tate.

In Newark, N.J., reporter Peter Bridge spent time in prison for refusing to rat on a member of the Newark Housing Authority who had told him about the offer of a bribe.

When Gov. Meskill, speaking of the Yalies, upheld the judicial "repression" of First Amendment rights supposedly guaranteed to Farr and Bridge, news executives around the country began clamoring for a national Shield Law to protect reporters' investigative sources.

IN THIS column's opinion, a Shield Law, while it would be redundant, would act as an "outrider protection" of the First Amendment. But how ridiculous it is of the courts to jail a William Farr or a Peter Bridge in the first place.

In printing their original stories, these two reporters had given the courts and the police invaluable leads to both real and projected wrongdoing. They were able to obtain their information precisely because of the assumption that a newsman has the right to protect his source.

Once the law is interpreted to mean that reporters must divulge the identity of news sources, who in his right mind would tell a newspaperman anything that might result in personal unpleasantness? Only an occasional potential martyr would volunteer.

This does not mean, however, that there is a government "conspiracy" against the press. When Edith Efron made her case against TV journalism in "The News Twisters," and when Gov. Meskill said reporters had no right to special protection under the First Amendment, they were clearly speaking for themselves.

In my opinion, Miss Efron did no more than draw correct conclusions from statistical analysis of tapes.

Gov. Meskill, on the other hand, was guilty of overreacting to stimuli. He can't really believe that crime detection would be improved by drying up a newsman's sources of information.

Open Letter

TO: County Treasurer

DEAR MR. HISE: We understand that the state (rather the Ohio General Assembly) has been responsible for creating more headaches for you. By passage of the income tax bill, which carried with it tax rollback and equalization without allowing a future deadline for equalizing valuation throughout the state, caused a delay while a decision was reached by the Supreme Court. Now that the decision has come at the eleventh hour, we understand you have been forced to employ additional help to get tax bills ready, especially since they carry much more information on them this time around. At first we were hoping for more of a delay, but realized that only the inevitable payment of taxes would keep our local governments operating. Further delay would have caused local government bodies to borrow money until taxes could have been collected. We sympathize with your concerning the extra work which must be done without adequate time. Maybe someday counties will be able to throw a monkey wrench into state operations.

TV Viewing

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — 'Twas right before Christmas and all through the house not a creature was stirring — they were all in front of the tube watching holiday specials.

Television Christmas specials have become as much a part of the holiday ritual as exchanging gifts and putting up the tree, and this year the networks have no less than 13. Plus an assortment of series Christmas shows and other specials.

A holiday special means money in the bank for the networks. The kids love to see them again, they are timeless and can be pulled off the shelf year after year for an encore airing.

"Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" is back for the ninth year, switching this season from NBC to CBS. "A Charlie Brown Christmas" is back for the eighth time and "The Little Drummer Boy" is making its fifth appearance.

Like the shopping season, the specials get under way early. The first, "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town," was on ABC last Friday and CBS presented "The House Without a Christmas Tree" Sunday.

Three specials are on tonight. Perry Como hosts "The Perry Como Winter Show" on CBS. Preceding it on CBS are "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" and "Frosty the Snowman."

CBS has two more specials Friday night, "Rudolph," and "Homecoming: A Christmas Story." "Homecoming" was the pilot last year for "The Waltons."

Bing Crosby returns with his 37th Christmas show Sunday, Dec. 10, on NBC — it started on radio. Crosby will sing "White Christmas" and "Silent Night." Earlier that night NBC will air the animated "The Little Drummer Boy."

What would the holiday be without Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol"? There will be two animated versions of it, the first on Sunday, Dec. 10, on CBS in the afternoon. The second will be on ABC the following Friday.

The Peanuts gang is back looking for the true meaning of the yuletide in "A Charlie Brown Christmas" on CBS Tuesday, Dec. 12. It will be followed by a new version of the fairy tale of the princess and the pea, "Once Upon A Mattress," starting Carol Burnett and Ken Berry.

The second "Christmas Carol" will be seen on ABC Friday, Dec. 15, and English animator Richard Williams created the show in the manner of the original steel engravings of 1840 that illustrated the Dickens' book. Preceding it will be "The Night the Animals Talked."

Tennessee Ernie Ford will present his "White Christmas Special" on NBC Saturday, Dec. 23, including such songs as "Let It Snow" "Oh Christmas Tree"

State building well protected from blazes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— State Public Workers Director R. Wilson Neff says the new, 42-story state office building across from the Statehouse will be well protected from fire.

Sprinkler systems for the building, still under construction, will be installed on the first five floors only, but safety measures for the other 37 floors will be more than adequate, Neff said.

He said the building will have emergency, enclosed fire proofed staircases on the east and north sides, which would serve as fire towers.

He also noted that every floor will be equipped with smoke detection equipment and the entire elevator installation will be fireproofed.

Yule stamps taste bad

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New Hampshire physician has asked the government to warn stamp lickers of health hazards as the Christmas season approaches, and to make stamps more sanitary.

"The stamps are unsanitary, contain unknown chemicals which are virtually unregulated and are particularly distasteful," wrote Dr. Robert Shaw, 52, of New Ipswich, N.H. "In fact," the doctor said, "this year above all, the stamps taste terrible, are larger than normal and contain more glue."

Letters were sent to the Food and Drug Administration, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the U.S. Postal Service. They were sent to Dr. Shaw by a Washington attorney named John Joseph Matonis.

Matonis is connected with the Kefauver Society of Washington which describes itself as a "semi-secret" consumer organization whose avowed purpose is to protect consumers from the laxity of the agencies who claim to protect the consumer."

Policeman can't cite Santa Claus

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "I couldn't go home and face my kids if I gave Santa Claus a ticket," patrolman V.T. Campbell said.

Santa, in the person of Mose Hannon, was in a bit of trouble Friday when his auto collided with another car while rushing to a Christmas party where he was to be guest of honor.

But the spirit of Christmas prevailed and Campbell decided not to ticket either driver.

As a reward, Santa gave Campbell a lollipop.

Sentence youth: wash cruisers!

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Michael Hair, 17, is to spend the next eight Saturdays scrubbing, waxing and cleaning police cars.

The youth was ordered to take care of the cars Friday by Court of Record Judge W. Clayton Johnson after being found guilty on a charge of stealing a motorcycle.

"I just thought he should have some sort of disciplinary action in addition to probation," the judge said.

Here comes coffee cake

FOR SNACKTIME — Served warm from the oven, Cranberry Coffee Cake is a delightful offering.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

When we heard that the young home ec students in a foods lab class at St. Mary's Academy in Riverside, Rhode Island had won a prize for a Cranberry Coffee Cake we promptly tried their recipe. Served fresh from the oven it's a delight and here are directions for making it.

CRANBERRY COFFEE CAKE

1 cup chopped fresh or frozen cranberries.

1 tablespoon granulated sugar

1 tablespoon dark brown sugar.

1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese

1/4 cup butter or margarine

2 cups buttermilk biscuit mix

1-3 cup milk

1 large apple

Confectioners' Sugar Frosting, see below.

In a small mixing bowl stir together the cranberries, sugars, cinnamon and nutmeg; set aside.

In a medium mixing bowl, with a pastry blender, cut cream cheese and butter into biscuit mix until coarse crumbs are formed. With a fork, gradually stir in the milk to form a soft dough.

Turn out on a well-floured pastry cloth and knead gently just until smooth. Roll into a 12 by 8 inch rectangle. Transfer to a large greased cookie sheet.

Peel and chop enough apples to make 1 cup; stir into cranberry mixture.

Starting at short side of dough, spoon cranberry mixture down center third of dough. With a kitchen scissors, cut 2 1/2-inch strips of dough at 1-inch intervals along both sides of rectangle. Fold strips at an angle across filling alternating from side to side.

Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven for 20 minutes. While coffee cake is still warm, brush or spread Confectioners' Sugar Frosting over top and sides. Best served warm from the oven.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CONFECTIONERS' SUGAR FROSTING

Stir together 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and enough milk (about 2 teaspoons) to make a frosting of spreading consistency.

Budget chief's land deal eyed

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — President Nixon's new budget director recently sold his half of a huge Nevada cattle ranch, part of which had been obtained in a land trade with the federal government.

Roy L. Ash said in a telephone interview that the sale of his interest in the 200,000-acre T Lazy S ranch was unrelated to his appointment as director of the White House Office of Management and Budget.

He said he had been looking for a buyer for about two years.

Records in the Elko County courthouse disclosed that Ash sold his ranching interest to his Litton Industries partner and the co-owner of the T Lazy S, Charles B. Thornton.

The courthouse records show only that Thornton paid $10 "and other good and valuable consideration."

Asked the actual selling price, Ash said it was a personal matter that he could not disclose without Thornton's permission.

Three years ago Ash and Thornton, who built Litton Industries into one of the nation's biggest defense contractors, picked up a 14,000-acre parcel of public land for about $10 an acre.

The deal was one of several trades involved in creation of Pt. Reyes National Seashore across the Golden Gate from San Francisco.

Ash and Thornton swapped 22 acres of oceanfront land in Pt. Reyes for the 14,145 acres of arid rangeland adjacent to their Nevada ranch.

They had paid $142,000 for the California land.

Ash and officials of the U.S. Bureau of Land Management said that despite the huge disparity in acreage the two parcels of land had the same monetary value.

Federal officials who regularly deal in land in northern Nevada said in interviews that they doubt there is any $10-an-acre land left in the state.

Jerry Hendershot, realty specialist for the BLM's Elko district, said the average price now being paid for ranchland in the area is $25 to $30 an acre.

Ash and Thornton were among several persons interested in obtaining public lands who stepped in when the Interior Department found itself short of cash to purchase privately owned property within the 55,000-acre Pt. Reyes seashore.

Congress had authorized $14 million for land acquisition when it created the park in 1962. But land values skyrocketed and over the next decade acquisition costs shot up to $57.5 million.

As a result the Interior Department was highly receptive to proposals from individuals interested in buying acreage in Pt. Reyes for the purpose of trading it for federal land elsewhere.

But many of the trades proved highly controversial.

"Better not give her that 'travel-is-broadening' routine."

Calley lawyers set arguments

FALLS CHURCH, Va. (AP) — A three-judge military court hears oral arguments today by lawyers for Lt. William L. Calley Jr., seeking to reverse his conviction or reduce the sentence for the murder of at least 22 civilians in My Lai, South Vietnam.

Calley, who has served 20 months of a 20-year sentence in house arrest at Ft. Benning, Ga., will not be at the hearing before the Army Court of Military Review.

His lawyers claimed, in a 461-page brief, that 32 errors were committed in the course of Calley's prosecution and trial at Ft. Benning and that he was made the scapegoat "to insulate and clear the government and its policy makers of the responsibility for what has become an infamous incident."

The government countered that procedures were proper and that Calley "for the sake of expediency, determined to liquidate the unprotected people of My Lai 4."

State income tax forms readied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — After Christmas, Ohio taxpayers can look forward to receiving state income tax reporting forms in the mail.

The Ohio Department of Taxation says a short form and a long form accompanied by 32 pages of instructions will be mailed later this month.

This is the first year of the tax on individuals and corporations in Ohio.

Why we're asking
$3275* for a Volkswagen.

That's a Volkswagen?

Yes, amazing as it seems, that big, beautiful car's a Volkswagen.

The 1973 VW 412. The most sophisticated VW ever built.

With more room, comfort, power and doors (4) than our little VW.

The VW 412 is also one of the most sophisticated cars ever built in its class.

Because it's the only car with all of its impressive standard equipment features.

Such as electronic fuel injection.

And a timed preheating system to warm up the interior.

Plus, steel-belted radial tires, front disc brakes, fully automatic transmission, electric rear window defogger and metallic paint.

And the best full-car warranty this side of a Rolls-Royce: 24 months/24,000 miles.*

So you see, when we ask more money for a Volkswagen, it's for a good reason.

We give you more Volkswagen for the money.

Introducing the 1973 Volkswagen 412

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Men who treat wives as reservation clerks

DEAR ABBY: My husband woke me out of a sound sleep to read me a letter in your column. It was from a wife complaining because her husband left all the planning and legwork to her if they were to have a night out. SHE had to get the dinner reservations and the theater tickets, see that his clothes were in shape, get gasoline for the car, phone the sitter, etc. And you, Dear Abby, had the nerve to say, "Are you feeling well, dear? Maybe you need a checkup."

My husband read your answer to me, and said, "See?" Then he nearly fell out of bed laughing.

Abby, maybe you don't know what it's like to be married to a man who has to be told to do everything. I do!

I have to tell him the screen door is broken, yet HE walks thru it, too. I have to tell him to fix the dripping faucet. (It's the one HE uses every morning.) I have to remind him every winter to put antifreeze in the car. I know how that poor wife felt when she said that if she has to make all the arrangements, she'd rather stay home.

So, Abby, even if you don't sympathize with that woman, please print this. I want to wake my husband up and read it to him. Then it will be my turn to fall out of bed laughing.

DENNY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: All right. Fair is fair. Now it's your turn.

DEAR ABBY: A wife complains because her husband asks her to order the theater tickets to whatever she wants to see, make the dinner reservations for wherever she wants to dine, press his favorite shirt, pick up his suit, fill the gas tank, and line up a sitter. She says, "By the time I have all that done, plus feeding the kids, the evening out is no longer special, and when I tell him I don't feel like going, he gets mad."

Abby, you missed the point. I know exactly how that woman feels because I've been married to such a selfish, thoughtless husband for 20 years. If a man really wants to give his wife a special treat, why can't he get the tickets, make the dinner reservations, and let her feel like he is taking her out on a date, like during their courtship days? Why should a wife have to make all the arrangements? She might as well take herself out. She needs someone to pamper her a little. And he needs a good kick in the derriere.

Eighteen years with that jerk would bother any wife. Who wouldn't need a checkup?

IN HER SHOES

DEAR ABBY: The woman who whines because her husband asks her to get theater tickets and restaurant reservations is just too much.

Consider a husband:
— Who never gets home until after 8:30 p.m.
— Whose ultimate in recreation is television.

— Whose credit buying keeps the family so heavily in debt there is nothing left for theaters or restaurants.
— Who urges his wife to go wherever she wants ... alone.

Now, consider the wife:
— Who comes home from work to no husband but to two preschool children.

— Who would love to go to the theater and dine out, but is never asked.
— Whose husband complains when she does go out alone.

— Who loathes the daily ration of hamburger, and is ready to chuck her 15-year marriage with all its boredom. I'd sure like to meet that whiner. If I didn't punch her in the nose first, we might negotiate a six-month husband trade. Maybe she'd shape up if she had a dullard who falls asleep in front of the TV every night.

P. S. My husband's physician said, "There's absolutely nothing physically wrong with your husband," — then he propositioned me. Like a chump, I passed it up.

MOST DEFINITELY ANONYMOUS
DEAR ABBY: You let me down when you refused to sympathize with that woman who didn't feel like going out with her husband because he left all the arrangements up to her.

Men never treat their girl friends that way. Why should they treat their wives like employees?

MAD IN PORTLAND

DEAR MAD: Some women would gladly settle for the treatment their husbands give their employees.

ROSE PETAL BLUEBIRDS

The meeting opened with the Rose Petal Bluebirds present. Tami McDaniel called the roll and collected dues. Those present were Nancy McCoy, Tammy Conger, Roberta Williams, Jackie Ferguson, Cathy Cox, Rhonda Estep, Michele Dollison, Gayle Smith, Angela Hutchinson and Tammy Bryan, and leaders Mrs. Carrie Ferguson, Mrs. Pat McDaniel, Mrs. Pat Smith and Mrs. Tamara Dollison.

Roberta Williams led the Pledge of Allegiance and the Bluebird Wish.

The girls enjoyed crafttime as they made pretty candle holders. These were made by covering clear plastic containers with stained glass contact paper.

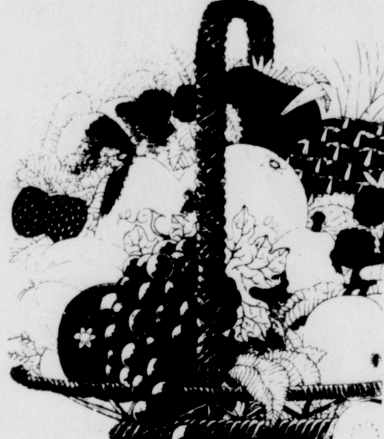

Mrs. Ferguson gave each girl a Bluebird pencil, for doing her share in shelling Camp Fire Candy.

The girls decided what they will do for the Christmas party, Dec. 13.

Rhonda Estep brought and served refreshments. Following this, the girls sang several Christmas carols before going home.

Life consists of waiting

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments of a Pavement Plato:
Our lives are full of separate waitings.

We wait to get born, and from then on until we are done with breath it seems we spend more time waiting than we spend in actually doing things.

Waiting for someone to bring us a warm bottle or a change of diapers.

Waiting for Daddy to come home and throw us up in the air — and catch us every time.

Waiting for Mama to find out what we did wrong and spank us.

Waiting to be old enough to go to kindergarten.

Waiting for one hour in kindergarten for the first red-haired girl of our life to smile on us.

Waiting for a loved teacher to recognize our upraised hand and let us reply to the only question she had asked that we thought we knew the answer to.

Waiting for the neighbor's lady dog to have pups so we could have one for our very own.

Waiting for a parental cash reward for getting a good report card that didn't also say: "could do much better with more application."

Waiting to get over the chicken pox, the mumps and the measles.

Waiting for the music to begin at our first high school dance.

Waiting for the music to stop so we could escape from the dance floor.

Waiting to see whether the first girl we kissed would faint — or whether we would.

Waiting to get out of uniform after serving in a war whose unofficial motto was, "hurry up — and wait."

Waiting for the right girl to say yes or no.

Waiting for her to come down the aisle and the minister to make an unalterable pronouncement — "man and wife."

Waiting to get a decent job.

Waiting — for the rest of our life — for the world to recognize our worth.

Waiting for the stork to come.

Waiting the moments that seem like years until the nurse lets us see what the stork left.

Waiting for it to grow up.

Waiting for pay increases.

Waiting to pay off the mortgages.

Waiting in line for tickets.

Waiting for the wife to finish dressing.

Waiting for the morning bus and the evening bus, the morning train or the evening train.

Waiting on endless blue Mondays for the office clock to crawl around to 5:30.

Waiting for restaurant tables and space to stand at bars.

Waiting for the dentist to finish drilling and filling.

Waiting for the doctor to quit probing and tubing.

Waiting ten million times for the lights to change from red to green...so the traffic will slow or the traffic will flow.

Waiting at the bedside of a dying friend.

Yes, life is largely a matter of waiting. We do our living between the pauses.

Republican governors see need for work with poor

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — GOP National Chairman Robert Dole said today that President Nixon's landslide victory "is a harbinger of good fortune for the Republican party" that could lead to its restoration as the nation's majority party.

Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan, chairman of the Republican Governors Association, said the GOP can't attain majority status "unless it concerns itself deeply and urgently with the needs of the poor and the desperate."

Dole and Milliken gave their views in speeches prepared for today's opening business session of the semiannual meeting of Republican governors in suburban Scottsdale.

Other governors, discussing the GOP's future in interviews and in an Associated Press survey, said that much will depend on how the party uses the next four years to develop a broader base.

"The Republican party has an opportunity to build a stronger national party based on the President's victory, but it will not happen easily or without genuine appeal, hard work and strong leadership," said Robert D. Ray of Iowa.

Dole predicted "a very promising future for the GOP," adding that, with hard work on the national and state levels, "there is every good reason to believe that the efforts we make towards restoring this party to its deserved status as party of the majority of Americans will be recorded."

Nixon's landslide, Dole said, occurred because millions of Americans broke "the straight ticket Democrat voting habit of a lifetime" and, for the first time in their lives, voted for a Republican candidate for president.

"Having done it once, on the presidential level, I am confident we can expect these same voters may be persuaded to do it again and even regularly on a lower level ....," the Kansas senator said.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

TUESDAY, DEC. 5

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Now you have an opportunity to spread your wings a bit, to investigate new areas, devices. But do not drop well-planned activities merely for the sake of change.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Your artistic gifts, now stimulated by an auspicious Venus, can make the difference between a coldly systemized day and one with feeling.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

You may run into some complex situations. Aim to solve matters with as little red tape and fuss as possible. And this the smart Geminian CAN!

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Upon your attitude and approach to all situations will depend the success of this day. This is a period in which to use "horse sense," to take responsibilities seriously.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Solar influences warn against hasty decisions and expressing opinions before all facts are in or all factors understood. Day has fine potential otherwise.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Wait till sure, then move. Impulsiveness in word or deed could cause needless redoing, harm to future endeavor. Aim for the highest objectives only.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Planetary influences suggest that you curb emotions, avoid haste and eccentricity. Be sure of steps to be taken, then take them — confidently.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Narrow-minded insistence on sticking to old practices without regard for new or more fitting ones could be a big drawback now. Look forward!

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Highly beneficial Jupiter influences now stimulate business and financial matters, promise new opportunities to further worthwhile goals.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Especially favored under generally fine aspects: Medical and scientific matters; study, research, investigation.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A "small voice" may rebel against certain intended action. At least, listen to its message. But shun fear and inconsistency if you would really achieve.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Don't scatter your energies nor direct them into unproductive channels. If you concentrate on your most important objectives, you can accomplish handsily.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a warm and outgoing personality, remarkable business acumen and a subtle but brilliant wit. You have a fine mind and could succeed in almost any field of your choosing, but your greatest successes would probably be achieved in the business and financial world. You may, however, be more inclined to the law, statesmanship, literature or the theater and, should you choose one of these as a career, you can be assured, not only of professional success, but material success as well for, no matter how engrossed you become in you chosen field, your good business head never leaves you. Traits to curb: Hypersensitivity and undue secretiveness.

Cold sore . . . and cool comfort

I am 18 and have been told I have herpes simplex. All I know is that it is caused by a virus. My fear is that I will not be able to marry or have children. How serious is this condition?

Miss D.C., R.I.

Dear Miss C.:

First, let me assure you that your fears are unfounded.

It always distresses me when patents do not have the marre ability to ask their own doctors all the details of an illness they are said to have. Your doctor's assurance that the condition he diagnosed is not a serious one would have immediately relieved you of the unnecessary and prolonged anxiety.

And now, about herpes simplex: In lay parlance, this is often called a "fever blister" or a "cold sore."

It is caused by a particular virus. Tiny clusters of small blisters filled with clear fluid occur on the skin or on the mucous membrane.

It appears most commonly on the lips or the face, but can occur on virtually every part of the body.

It has been said that overexposure to sunlight may be responsible for repeated attacks.

Many excellent drugs are available to prevent the spread of herpes simplex.

Why should polyps of the nose come back just a few years after they were removed by operation?

Mr. J.S., Mich.

Dear Mr. S.:

Polyps of the nose are tiny growths that develop as a reaction to chronic infection or allergy in the lining of the nose.

Unless the basic underlying condition which caused them is actively treated and controlled, the polyps must necessarily come back. Intensive treatment after surgery is the way to prevent their recurrence.

Opening lead - ten of hearts.

It is sometimes possible to lead declarer astray by persuading him that a condition exists which, in fact, does not exist.

Here is an example where Ira Rubin of Paramus, N.J., succeeded in stopping a game by this method. The hand occurred in a play-off match to determine the team that would represent the United States in the 1971 world championship.

Rubin was West and chose the ten of hearts as his opening shot. Declarer ducked, losing to the queen, and East returned the four of hearts.

Declarer won in dummy with the ace, returned a club to the queen, and it was on this trick that Rubin made the excellent play of the ten!

It is hard to blame South for concluding that Rubin did not have the king and that a later club lead from dummy would produce five club tricks. So, in line with this, declarer cashed the ace of spades before leading a diamond to dummy's queen.

After cashing the king of spades and discarding a diamond, South played another club from dummy, confidently expecting to make at least three notrump. But East showed out on the club and declarer was now in deep trouble. He won the ace and returned a club, but finished down three.

Had Rubin taken the queen of clubs with the king, it is extremely probably that declarer would have made the contract. He would have been virtually forced into taking advantage of the favorable diamond situation, thus making two diamond tricks.

But with Rubin ducking the queen of clubs, and falsecarding with the ten for good measure, it was mighty difficult for declarer to read the actual situation. He simply had to swallow the bait.

Southern Cal completes brilliant season

ALMOST A FUMBLE RECOVERY — Southern California defenders Dale Mitchell (on ground) and Charles Phillips close in on a Notre Dame fumble in Los Angeles Coliseum, but fullback Andy Huff (20) of the Fighting Irish dove in and captured the ball. His recovery enabled Notre Dame to keep a drive alive that resulted in a first period field goal. The other Trojan is James Sims.

'Skins cop division title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"We've fulfilled our immediate goal but now we've got to go on from there," Washington Coach George Allen said.

The immediate goal was a championship, something the Redskins hadn't achieved in 27 years. They achieved it Sunday, locking up the East Division crown of the National Conference by beating surprisingly scrappy Philadelphia 23-7. It was the same Eagles club which, only a week ago, had rolled over, played dead and been stomped 62-10.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, who have never won a title of any kind in their 40 years in the National Football League, took a giant step toward the American Conference's Central Division title by thrashing Cleveland 30-0 to take a one-game lead over the Browns with two to go.

The Green Bay Packers, expected by most preseason observers to be mere bystanders in a National Conference Central struggle between Detroit and Minnesota, regained a onegame lead in the division by clubbing the Lions 33-7, dumping them back into a secondplace tie with the Vikings.

Oakland also clinched a division title, its fifth in six seasons, edging San Diego 19-17 to take a 2½-game lead in the American Conference West with two games remaining.

In Sunday's other NFL games, unbeaten Miami made it 12 in a row by defeating New England 37-21. Minnesota beat Chicago 23-10, Cincinnati nipped the New York Giants 13-10, Atlanta trimmed Houston 20-10, Dallas shelled St. Louis 27-6, Kansas City nosed out Denver 24-21, Baltimore bombed Buffalo 35-7 and the New York Jets squeezed past New Orleans 18-17. The San Francisco 49ers host the Los Angeles Rams in tonight's game.

Also on Sunday, the Hamilton Tiger-Cats beat the Saskatchewan Roughriders 13-10 for the Grey Cup in the pro football championship of Canada.

Three Rivers Stadium in Pittsburgh was in a constant uproar as the off-frustrated Steelers avenged a 26-24 loss to the Browns they suffered two weeks ago.

The Steelers' star once again was rookie Franco Harris, who rushed for 102 yards and a pair of touchdowns. It tied Jim Brown's record of six straight 100-yard-plus games and put him within 40 yards of becoming the fifth pro rookie to reach 1,000.

After Chester Marcol got the Packers moving with three of his four field goals, Ken Ellis shifted them into high gear with two interceptions which set up a pair of John Brockington touch-

Auburn's upset paves way for No. 1 Trojans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

And then there was one. One undefeated team—Southern California—and one game to go for the national college football championship.

The Trojans, No. 1 all year in The Associated press ratings, completed a brilliant 11-0 regular season Saturday by trouncing 10th-ranked Notre Dame 45-23 as super sophomore Anthony Davis dazzled the Fighting Irish with six touchdowns, one short of the all-time major college record.

That left USC with no legitimate pretenders to the throne since ninth-ranked Auburn upset runner-up Alabama, the only other unbeaten team, 17-16 earlier the day. The Tigers scored all their points in the final period, wiping out a 16-0 Alabama lead on Gardner Jett's 42-yard field goal and two blocked punts by Bill Newton, both of which David Langner scooped up and ran in for touchdowns.

Ohio State's Big Ten champs are the only team between Southern Cal and the Trojans' third national crown since Coach John McKay took over in 1960. The Buckeyes, ranked fourth last week, meet Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl and appear to be one of only three challengers for the top spot.

The others are third-rated Oklahoma and No. 5 Penn State, who clash in the Sugar Bowl. All three challengers probably will move up in this week's final regular-season poll.

Elsewhere, Oklahoma unseated Nebraska as Big Eight titlist with a 38-15 trouncing of 20th-ranked Oklahoma State and the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl foes both triumphed, No. 11 Louisiana State edging Tulane 9-6 as time ran out with the losers on the LSU one-yard line and No. 12 Tennessee whipping Vanderbilt 30-10 as Haskel Stanback scored three touchdowns and set a single-season school rushing record of 889 yards.

The Liberty Bowl rivals, however, both lost. Slumping Iowa State, which had high hopes midway through the campaign, bowed to San Diego State 27-14 while Georgia Tech, without suspended quarterback Eddie McAshan, was dumped by Georgia 27-7.

In other games on the final big weekend of the season, Army rallied to sink Navy 23-15, Southern Methodist gave ousted Coach Hayden Fry a 35-22 farewell present over Texas Christian, Florida downed Miami, Fla. 17-6, Baylor trimmed Rice 28-14 for its best season since 1966, Boston College drubbed Jesuit rival Holy Cross 41-11, Stanford crushed Hawaii 39-7, Memphis State and Southern Mississippi battled to a 14-14 standoff and Long Beach State outlasted Cal State-Northridge 35-32 as Terry Metcalf erupted for five touchdown runs.

Davis was the whole show as Southern Cal made it four wins and two ties in the last six meetings with Notre Dame. The 185-pound tailback, who has played second fiddle to Rod McNeill much of the season, scampered 97 yards with the opening kickoff, added a 96-yarder on the kickoff after Notre Dame had pulled within two points in the third quarter and chipped in with assorted scoring runs of one, five, four and eight yards.

down runs and sent Detroit reeling.

Charlie Smith's nine-yard touchdown sweep with about a minute to play provided Oakland's margin of victory over the Chargers. Daryle Lamonica passed 16 yards to Ray Chester and 36 to Fred Biletnikoff for the Raiders' other touchdowns, but they didn't really lock the game up until Dennis Partee, who earlier had missed a 33-yard field goal, failed on a 51-yard attempt on the final play.

Earl Morrall passed for touchdowns of three yards to Jim Mandich and 14 to Marlin Briscoe, Garo Yepremian booted three field goals and Larry Csonka, grinding out 91 yards, exceeded the 1,000-yard mark for the second straight season as the Dolphins, by beating the Patriots, moved within two victories of a perfect year, a feat last performed by the 1942 Chicago Bears in an 11-game season.

Bobby Bryant blunted one Chicago threat with an interception in the end zone, then ran back a fumble 24 yards for a touchdown to lead the Vikings to victory.

Reserve linebacker Doug Adams intercepted two passes to slow down the Giants and Ken Anderson flipped a threeyard scoring pass to Bruce Coslet late in the third quarter to key the Bengals' victory. It gave them a 13-3, enough to withstand Randy Johnson's eight-yard touchdown pass in the final period.

The Falcons, remaining in the thick of the NFC West race with the 49ers and Rams, got a pair of touchdown runs from Dave Hampton to send the Oilers skidding tm their 11th loss in 12 games, a feat which, if the trend continues, will give Houston the No. 1 pick in next year's collegiate draft.

"wild card" playoff berth, but which had seriously dented New York's hopes for such a berth.

The National Conference and American Conference second place team with the best record will win playoff berths.

Surprising Vanderbilt posts win over Kansas; now 5-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Vanderbilt Commodores may prove to be the surprise of the new college basketball season.

Unranked in the preseason Associated Press poll, the Commodores from the Southeastern Conference impressed last week by beating Louisville of the Missouri Valley Conference and Kansas of the Big Eight.

The 66-57 triumph over Louisville last Thursday and the 72-64 conquest of Kansas Saturday night drew attention to the charges of Coach Roy Skinner. Both victories came on the road indicating the Commodores are cool under pressure.

Before the week is over the Commodores may boast a 5-0 record. They play Southern Methodist at home tonight in Nashville and on Friday host the annual Vanderbilt Holiday Invitational. In the first round the Commodores take on the Columbia Lions of the Ivy League. Their opponent Saturday will be either Western Kentucky of the Ohio Valley Conference or Kent State of the Mid-American Conference.

There were a few upsets, but mostly form prevailed over the weekend.

Sunday's decision left the Giants and Bengals with identical 7-5 records, with the Giants trailing second-place Dallas by 1½ games in the NFC East, and the Bengals trailing Cleveland by one game in the AFC Central Division with the Browns scheduled to play here next Saturday.

UCLA, the national collegiate champions, whacked U. of Pacific 81-48 to extend the Bruins' winning string to 48 in a row the second longest streak on record. UCLA, now 3-0, is idle this week.

Adolph Rupp, the famed Baron of the Blue Grass who retired as University of Kentucky coach after last season, is expected to be on hand tonight when the Wildcats open their home season against Iowa. Rupp was not at East Lansing when the Wildcats opened their season under new Coach Joe Hall by beating Michigan State 75-66 Saturday.

Michigan's heralded soph, Campy Russell, made his varsity debut and helped lead the Wolverines over Notre Dame 96-87. Maryland, Minnesota, Marquette and Memphis State were among the highly ranked teams which won easily.

Tennessee surprised South Carolina 55-45. In other upsets, Seattle took Houston 65-61, St. Mary's Gaels humbled California 72-70 and Santa Clara shaded Brigham Young 66-64 after losing to the favorites in the Western Athletic Conference 84-73 Friday night.

made good on two shots each at the charity strip in the remaining seconds to secure a 71-65 triumph over visiting Earlham College of Indiana.

In other games, Washington tripped up Ohio State 67-63, Bluffton topped Hanover 81-74, Dayton held off Illinois State 81-75, Oberlin overhauled Case Western Reserve 73-65, Wright State nipped Kenyon 64-57, Hiram pounded Denison 88-64.

Elsewhere, Slippery Rock topped Walsh 97-63, Mercyhurst, Pa., nudged Ohio Northern 59-53, Akron dominated Otterbein 87-72, Heidelberg squeezed by Findlay 55-51, Rio Grande overpowered Wilberforce 106-84, Northern Kentucky edged Cedarville 86-84, Wooster slipped by Grove City 77-57, and Muskingum dominated Washington and Jefferson 99-44.

ALABAMA ON THE MOVE — Joe LaBue (30) of Alabama, moves out for a Tide first down before being stopped by Auburn's Bruce Evans (47) and Steve Wilson (31). Auburn upset second-ranked Alabama, 17-16.

'Cane snaps nosedive; Circleville wins 3rd

Wilmington's Hurryin' Hurrican and the Circleville Tigers emerged with lopsided victories in Saturday night's action involving South Central Ohio League basketball members.

The Hurryin' Hurricane cracked a two-game nosedive by popping intracounty rival Clinton Massie 87-48 on the Falcon hardwood and the always-tough Circleville bunch routed a weak Hamilton Township team 88-38 in the Tiger gym.

A QUARTET of Wilmington players dipped into double figures in leading the Hurricane to its first win in three starts this season.

Smooth-shooting senior Robert Raizk hit the twine with 12 field goals and a pair of free throws for 26 points and junior guard Bill McClary canned 15 markers. Brad Halley and Jeff Earley provided ample backing in Wilmington's attack with 12 and 11 points, respectively.

Wilmington jumped to a 23-10 first period lead and scored 16 in the second frame for a 39-20 advantage at intermission. In the third quarter, head coach Buddy Bell's boys ripped the cords with 24 points while Clinton Massie was able to score only five. Wilmington sealed the win with a 14-point fourth quarter.

Steve King's 10-point effort was tops for Clinton Massie and Doug Ingram canned nine.

CIRCLEVILLE, proving itself as a valid SCOL contender, received 20-point scoring performances from slick senior Dan Graham and Greg Hoskins and 17-point scorework from steady Dave Truex in romping to its third straight win of the campaign.

The Tigers zipped to a 21-6 first period margin and claimed a 36-16 advantage at intermission. Circleville sealed the win with a 31-point third period eruption while Hamilton Township was scoring four points and capped the high-scoring contest with 21 counters in the final period.

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus had just closed the most spectacular year of his fantastic career with a victory in the Walt Disney World Open Golf Tournament and was considering his goals for 1973.

"The first goal, for 1973," he mused, "well, that'd be No. 14 at Augusta, in the Masters."

He referred to his collection of 13 major championships, a record he shares with the late Bobby Jones. A victory at Augusta, Ga., in the spring would be the 14th, putting him on a plateau alone above all the other men who have played this old game.

His more general goals are even more awe-inspiring.

"I don't think there's any question this is the best year I've had," said Nicklaus, winner of the U.S. Open, the Masters, five other titles and a whopping record of $320,542.

Colonels top San Diego; win 109-91

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The third-place Kentucky Colonels of 1972 are beginning to look like the champion Kentucky Colonels of 1971.

The Colonels, who won the American Basketball Association's East Division with a record number of victories last year before getting eliminated in the playoffs, won their seventh game in the last eight by whipping San Diego 109-91.

Dan Issel scored 27 points and grabbed 14 rebounds and Artis Gilmore contributed 15 points and 20 rebounds as the Colonels moved to within two games of idle Carolina. Jerry Chambers scored 22 points for San Diego.

In other Sunday action in the ABA, Indiana edged the New York Nets 113-110 and Memphis trounced Virginia 124-115, while Milwaukee downed Phoenix 119-110 and Cleveland edged Seattle 105-103 in overtime in the only National Basketball Association games.

Bill Keller clinched Indiana's victory with four foul shots in the last six seconds after the Nets have closed from 13 points behind to one, 109-108, with eight seconds remaining. George McGinnis paced Indiana with 26 points and Keller added 19. George Carter topped New York with 29.

With George Thompson leading the way with 28 points, Memphis snapped an eightgame losing streak despite 37 points by Virginia's Julius Erving.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 33 points and Bob Dandridge 26 as Milwaukee coasted past Phoenix, which was topped by Connie Hawkins' 19 points.

Barry Clemens came off the bench for Cleveland to send the game into overtime with two foul shots with six seconds remaining and then scored six of the Cavaliers' nine overtime points. Clemens finished with 12 points. Austin Carr scored 30 and Lenny Wilkens 26 for Cleveland and Jim Fox 24 for Seattle.

Flossie and Amlin to coach all-stars

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dan "Babe" Flossie of Akron Garfield and Ken Amlin of Dayton Patterson have been named coaches for the 1973 Ohio High School Football All Star Classic at Canton next Aug. 10.

Flossie will guide the North, and Amlin the South squad. Rosters for the teams will be composed of outstanding scholastic players during the 1972 season.

BGSU pops MacMurray, 99-63

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bowling Green State University Coach Pat Haley claimed the big victory, but opposing Coach Bill Wall of MacMurray College of Illinois had to settle for a minor tactical triumph in weekend Mid-American college basketball action.

The Falcons, with four sophomores in the lineup, pounded little MacMurray College 99-63 to capture an opening season win.

Elsewhere in the MAC, Toledo dropped Eastern Michigan 77-59, Miami turned back Central Michigan 69-60, Kent State tripped Marietta 65-36 and Ohio University drubbed Youngstown 68-59.

Haley, second-year coach at Bowling Green, said, "We're definitely much improved over last year. There's no two ways about it."

In other weekend action involving Ohio teams, Defiance College traveled to McKenzie, Tenn., and came back with the Baker Invitational Tournament championship. Defiance, now 2-0, was able to nip Bethel College of Tennessee 86-85.

Bruce Baer, who had 22 points in the championship game, was selected the tournament's most valuable player. Six-foot guard Ken Bush led the Defiance club in the final game with 28 points.

Using a walkie-talkie from a press box above the basketball floor, University of Cincinnati Coach Gale Catlett directed his players to a 113-84 victory over Cleveland State.

Catlett took to the press box after referee Robert James gave him four technical fouls and ejected him from the game. The incident began when Catlett protested a foul call by the referee.

The College of Steubenville notched its fourth straight win, and Capital University stretched its season winning skein to three in riding roughshod over their opponents.

Steubenville pounded Ohio Dominican College 71-44 while Capital dominated Wilmington 116-71 with 60 per cent shooting exhibition.

John Carroll University staged a 90-second stall, and Wittenberg sank four foul shots in the final 33 minutes to tuck away victories in pressure packed games.

John Carroll made a furious finish, highlighted by the stall, to capture a 66-62 win over Ohio Wesleyan. Wittenberg's Steve Moore and Pat Beasley

Rain, snow delay road, street crews

Not only has wet weather delayed farmers in Fayette County from harvesting valuable crops, it also delayed state and county highway departments in preparing for winter.

Gene Fitzpatrick, state highway superintendent for Fayette County, said workmen have been unable to get into the fields to install snow fencing for winter. The weather also has delayed a number of road projects including the completion of an improvement to the U. S. 35 - Palmer Road intersection, he said.

Weather permitting, state workmen will complete the Palmer Road - U. S. 35 intersection this week where a through lane is being constructed for northbound U. S. 35 traffic.

Other projects on the State Highway Department schedule this week include berming along Ohio 729 north of Jeffersonville and U. S. 62-S, picking up trash in roadside parks and patching chuckholes in state and federal highways throughout the county.

CITY WORKMEN will continue to pick up leaves in all four city wards this week in addition to grading and stoning alleys and launching an equipment maintenance program at the garage this week, according to Richard E. Duffy, city street superintendent.

Duffy said one round of leaf pickups will be completed early this week and the final pickup round is planned for next week. He urged residents to rake their leaves and place them at curbs as soon as possible.

Members of the Street Department will be cleaning trucks and equipment this week in preparation for painting, Duffy said. Other members of the department will be repairing signs, catch basins and working on other correction projects around the city.

COUNTY HIGHWAY crews plan to continue cutting brush along roadsides, working on ditches on Pisgah and Jasper - Coil roads and fixing mailbox turnouts all over the county this week, Charles P. Wagner, county engineer, reports.

Another crew is scheduled to build a drainage facility along Jasper - Coil Road, he added.

The County Highway Department also is behind schedule in installing snow fencing because of the wet weather. Wagner said installation will be completed as soon as his men are able to get into the fields.

Today In History

Today is Monday, Dec. 4, the 339th day of 1972. There are 27 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1789, France declared war on Naples.

In 1816, the U.S. Electoral College elected James Monroe the fifth President of the United States.

In 1876, the New York Tammany leader, Boss Tweed, escaped from prison. He later was recaptured in Spain.

In 1942, American bombers struck the Italian mainland for the first time in World War II.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Turkey's President Ismet Inonu held a wartime meeting in Cairo.

Ten years ago: Hundreds of Moslem and European opponents of the Ben Bella government in Algeria were arrested.

Five years ago: President Lyndon B. Johnson named Lt. Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr. as the new Marine commandant.

One year ago: Indian troops, tanks and planes launched attacks in East Pakistan and Indian planes hit key airfields in West Pakistan.

Today's birthdays: Spanish Chief of State Francisco Franco is 80. Biologist Alfred D. Hershey is 54.

Thought for today: As our government deteriorates, our humor increases—Will Rogers, American humorist, 1879-1935.

Organic foods not worthwhile?

NEW YORK (AP) — Some organic foods are overpriced, lacking in the nutritional values they claim to offer and show a higher rate of pesticide residues than regular foods, according to testimony from a battery of professional nutritionists.

The health-food critics spoke Friday at a consumer hearing conducted by State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, to clarify some of the confusion he says "reigns supreme" in the organic-food field.

Pro-organic-food witnesses asked that the entire industry not be faulted for a few "ripoffs," adding that new self-policing programs were being developed.

Davidson coach dies

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Funeral services have been scheduled in Portsmouth Tuesday for Harry Fogleman, Davidson College tennis and soccer coach. Fogleman, 59, died Saturday at his home in Davidson, N. C., after suffering a heart attack.

Ohio Demos may redraw Congressional map

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democrats in the new 110th General Assembly are expected to redraw congressional district boundaries to give them better representation than the 17-8 margin they will hold for the next two years.

Redistricting, unlike reapportionment of the legislature, which is permitted only once every 10 years, can be accomplished anytime by the legislature.

Democrats, who already control the governor's office, will run the Ohio House by a 58-41 margin. Republicans will control the Senate 17-16.

The Democratic goal is to get at least two Senate Republicans to support any redistricting plan they offer. They have indicated they will carve out two "safe" Republican congressional territories for the GOP senators who go along with them.

Already there have been nibbles from two senators who are admittedly interested in being congressmen. Both are from northern Ohio.

Sen. Oakley Collins, R-18 Ironton, who served two years in the House and 18 years in the Senate, will go back to the House next year—but without any seniority.

That came home to him the hard way last week when he selected a desk on the House floor. It has been occupied by Rep. Lloyd Kerns, R-16 Richwood, who is retiring.

Hardly had Collins made his selection before Rep. Robert Netzley, R-7 Laura, decided he wanted that desk.

Netzley, who has served 10 consecutive years in the House, will get it—because of seniority. His years of House service are unbroken, thus giving him the seniority.

The proposed criminal code revision bill, seven years in the making, still faces rough sledding if it is to get an okay from the current "lame duck" legislature. The bill comes up for a vote in the Senate Dec. 6 and Democratic Leader Anthony Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, plans to fight it. Calabrese says the bill is too important to rush through now and should be held over for the 1973 legislature.

Even if it gets through the Senate, it then goes back to the House for consideration of numerous Senate changes. The main sponsor, Rep. Alan Norris, R-59 Westerville, already has said he will ask the House not to concur in the Senate amendments and will insist that it go to a House-Senate conference committee.

Norris doesn't like some of the changes, but said "I would ask for a conference committee anyway with a bill of that size and the numerous changes they made in it."

One big change that could stir up controversy is a proposal that would seek to have Ohio retain the death penalty on a limited basis in an effort to get around the U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawing the death penalty in most cases.

There'll be no scent of pine in the capitol rotunda again this holiday season.

The day of the giant, live Christmas tree went out of style with Republicans. Democrats appear to be on an ecology, safety kick.

The Department of Public Works announced that the state will abide by a Columbus law not using live Christmas trees in public buildings.

Plastic trees will be used instead. End Adv for PMs of Mon. Dec. 4.

Gilligan plans

Ohio Expositions appointments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan is expected to make three appointments to the Ohio Expositions Commission this week to give the Democrats a 5-4 majority on the panel that oversees operation of the annual Ohio State Fair.

An aide to Gilligan said the appointments will be made before the commission holds its annual reorganization meeting Wednesday at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Robert Ward of Urbana, outgoing Democratic commission chairman, said three Democrats will be named to give the party the majority on the commission.

Leaving the commission with Ward will be fellow Democrat R. Victor Oakley of Nelsonville. The term of Norman Treadon, a Republican from Brecksville also expires.

Guinea pigs, raised on scraps and greens right in the kitchen, were the main source of meat for the Incas before the discovery of South America.

Delta Queen on special jazz cruise

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Delta Queen, the last of the old passenger steamboats and truly the queen of the Mississippi River, heads upstream today on a special jazz cruise to the appropriate sounds of Dixieland music.

The sternwheeler will be saluted by passing seagoing ships as she makes her way to Baton Rouge.

And for seven nights, ending at Louisville, Ky., the ship will rock to nightly jazz concerts and make festive stops at Natchez and Vicksburg, Miss., Memphis, Tenn., and Evansville, Ind.

This is the way the original Dixieland jazz made its way north out of New Orleans about 1918, with the new sound catching on in speakeasies in Kansas City, Chicago and other points.

The Louisiana Jazz Club is sponsor of the cruise, which will feature jazz balls in Vicksburg and Memphis.

For the 170 passengers aboard, the Delta Queen will provide mint juleps and Scarlet O'Hara parties, banjo jangles, steam calliope blasts and Southern cooking.

Jazz buffs who make the whole trip will have to come up with $616 for each ticket if they want to travel class AAA—which means a cabin with twin beds, carpeted with their very own shower and toilet.

Those with smaller budgets can rough it for $353 as class C passengers. They will get bunks with a shower.

World production of mercury reached some 20 million pounds in 1969, and one expert counted more than 3,000 different uses for the element.

Violence widespread in overcrowded Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — One way of beating violence in the streets is to beat those who do it.
This is the conclusion of both a general and a newspaper as the biggest city in Africa faces violence in the streets.
For the tourist, who travels by special buses, can afford taxis, or walks in the tourist areas of Cairo, this is one of the safest big cities in the world. One can walk to one's hotel after midnight in greater safety than New York or Munich, tourists agree.
But it is a different story for the Egyptian masses, crammed into overcrowded buses and street cars; standing long hours in the hot sun waiting for transport, a movie, or admission to a football game.
At five million inhabitants, Cairo is the largest, and most crowded, city in Africa.
SURROUNDED on all sides by desert, except for the green belt along the Nile River, residents constantly walk on, eat and breathe sandy, gray dirt whenever the wind blows. It is extremely hot in the summer and relatively cold in the winter. Air conditioning and central heating are unknown to the masses.
Temper frays easily for those who can't afford the luxury of one of Cairo's 14,000 taxis.
Recently released statistics show that 391 persons were fatally beaten in the city last year and another 505 suffered permanent injuries in beatings.
Physical violence led to 34,000 arrests last year in Cairo, roughly one third of all arrests in Egypt.
The Egyptian woman is increasingly the object of filthy language and obscene gestures, according to the Cairo press, and women are fighting back.
LAST YEAR 23 women were convicted of fatally beating men and another 26 were convicted of permanently injuring men.
General Moustafa el Sheikh told a recent interviewer that physical punishment should replace the $2.30 fines or week long prison sentences now imposed for molesting women.
He said 10,902 men were arrested in Cairo last year in connection with aggression against women.
Commenting editorially, the Egyptian Gazette said: "The link between abusive language, violence and insulting behavior is obvious. If people are allowed to shout the filthiest and most obscene language at the top of their voices in public places . . . movie houses and on buses. . . then it is only natural that indecent behavior follow."
THE PAPER cited what it termed the shocking case of a young man who was fatally stabbed in broad daylight in Ramses Square when he tried

Clinic gives lift to feminine faces

by IVA DRAPALOVA
PRAGUE (AP) — A number of Western women — above all Americans — are not getting red-faced about obtaining a face-lift in Communist Czechoslovakia, trusting this can be done there more discreetly than at home.

Newspaper articles and word-of-mouth have made the Prague Cosmetic Institute a much sought-out face lifting clinic for women from the non-Communist world.

The waiting period at the Institute is six months or longer.

"They are really brave when you come to think of it," Dr. Karel Fahoun, 44, head of the Institute, said about the women who come to see him. "They are traveling to a foreign country, and a Communist one at that, with a strange language knowing they will face a difficult operation."

THE HANDSOME, boyist-looking Dr. Fahoun has become a favorite with the ladies.

He himself is not quite enthusiastic about "the American invasion." The Institute had to double the number of post-operative care beds, and it is booked out until after the end of the year. Dr. Fahoun has been operating on at least one American a day, mostly women.

"We can not expand any more," he sighed.

Before his new fame, Dr. Fahoun had been operating on a limited number of foreigners for years. They were diplomats or their friends and relatives, Americans, West Germans and Austrians, mainly. They were well acquainted with Czechoslovakia and in most cases did not have far to go.

The new customers usually had no previous contacts with Czechoslovakia. The main attraction of a face-lift in Czechoslovakia for a Westerner is the price and the anonymity of the operation.

A FACELIFT costs $400, an operation of upper and lower eyelids, $200 or $220 and a new nose is $300. Prices for similar operations in the United States reportedly are much higher.

The prices in Czechoslovakia may not be so cheap in the end, considering the travel costs and the expense of staying here.

In a number of cases, more than one operation is necessary.

Dr. Fahoun cautioned that would-be patients should take seriously the information in leaflets about the Institute. It insists on intervals between operations.

"When a face is swollen after the first operation, I cannot estimate how long it will take until I can proceed with the next one," he said.

Most of the customers who talked to reporters before or after an operation — insisting that their names not be published — were satisfied with the treatment and with results of the operation.

But they also said that in some cases they were snags which they felt could have been avoided.

BOOKING a hotel through an agency is advisable, for one thing. Failure to do so may mean no hotel accommodation and boarding with a Czechoslovak family.

This may be cheaper, but the language barrier and the fact that no meals are usually provided increases a sense of isolation.

Americans were also annoyed by the lack of English language papers on the stands in Prague and the inability to get books in English. "If I had known that, I would have taken a dozen paperbacks along," one said.

If a prospective patient plans to go on a diet, she or he should do it before the operation. Rapid loss of weight can largely undo the operation results, the Institute staff warns. The same thing holds true for customers who go on an eating spree in the Prague restaurants although the results may be just the opposite.

One jubilant American exclaimed after getting a facelift "I had a wonderful time, but I won't tell anybody about the operation. Let them wonder."

Four persons injured in CCC Highway crash

Four persons were treated at Memorial hospital, and two cars were demolished in a head-on crash on CCC Highway-W, early Sunday, the Sheriff's Department reports.

The crash involving cars driven by Charlene E. Langley, 53, of 1346 Meadow Dr., and Roger L. Walters, 21, Rt. 2, occurred about a half mile west of Washington C. H., in front of Club 22, at 1:30 a.m.

Both drivers were admitted to the hospital with injuries suffered in the crash. A passenger in the Walters car, Larry W. Cottrill, 21, Rt. 4, suffered a shoulder injury and lacerations, while Mary H. Mossbarger, 51, of 1350 N.

Cold wave pushes south

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold wave swept the nation early today sending the thermometer below zero from Montana to Upper Michigan and into the mid 30s as far South as Dallas, Tex.

Locally heavy snow whitened the southern edge of the cold air mass through sections of the intermountain region. Light snow fell in the high Plains and south of the Great Lakes.

Freezing drizzle made driving hazardous from northeastern Oklahoma through the middle Mississippi Valley into the Ohio Valley, while scattered thunderstorms soaked other sections of the same region.

Showers drenched the north Pacific coast, the Gulf coast and parts of Florida. Miami accumulated more than an inch of rain Sunday night.

Temperature before dawn ranged from 28 below zero at Glasgow, Mont., to 74 degrees at Key West, Fla.

Candidates file expense accounts

Two candidates who sought election in the Nov. 7 general election have filed accounting statements with the Fayette County Board of Elections.

Incumbent Sheriff Donald L. Thompson's statement reflected no contributions and expenses of $138.64. One of his opponents, Anthony Wilson, an American Independent, filed a statement reflecting no contributions or expenses.

In terms of dollar value, molybdenum was the most important metal mined in Colorado last year, accounting for $105.4 million of the state's $177.4 million total metals production.

North St., a passenger in the Langley car, received scalp lacerations. Both were released after treatment.

A third car, parked on the Club 22 lot was also involved in the accident.

According to investigating officers, the crash occurred when the Langley car, eastbound, apparently attempted to make a left turn into the Club 22 lot and turned into the path of the westbound Walters car. The two cars collided in the westbound lane and the Walters car careened into the parking lot, hitting a parked car owned by Harry J. Nicholson, 20, Tallmadge. The Langley vehicle spun around on impact and came to a stop headed east in the eastbound lane.

Nicholson and two passengers in his parked car were not injured. His 1973 model car was moderately damaged.

The accident is still under investigation.

DAVID L. PRATER, 19, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and speed excessive for road conditions by sheriff's deputies following an investigation into a hit&run accident on Jeffersonville - West Lancaster Road early Saturday.

Officers said Prater was apparently the driver of the car that ran off the pavement and knocked down 11 rods of fence on the Walter Avey farm, then drove from the scene. His 1965 model car received heavy damage to the right front and side.

Deputies arrested Prater Sunday. Jeffrey L. Burson, 19, Rt. 3, escaped injury when his car overturned on Allen Road, just south of the U. S. 35 and I-71 interchange at 8 a.m. Sunday.

Burson, traveling south, apparently lost control of his 1966 model car when he swerved to avoid hitting a squirrel, officers reported. His car ran off the left side of the pavement, hit a fence and overturned in the ditch.

Burson's car was demolished in the crash. Four rods of fence on the James Paisley farm were damaged.

Other mishaps investigated were:

POLICE
SATURDAY, 12:05 p.m. — A minor hit&run accident at the intersection of Court and Main Streets involving a car driven by Cathy J. Waddell, 20, of Jeffersonville. The other car involved failed to stop; damage minor.

SHERIFF
SUNDAY, — A parked car owned by John D. Wedgewood, of 1025 Dayton Ave., received minor damage when it was struck by a car driven by William Stuckey, 78, Sabina, on the Anderson's Restaurant lot.

SUNDAY — A stop sign on Rowe-Ging Road at the Armbrust Road intersection was knocked over by a hit&run driver.

They are available now at the Extension Service office for all three 4-H camps next year. They come in amounts up to $15 each and will take care of at least part of the camp fee.

The attractive green and white certificates will provide a boy or girl 4-

H club member an opportunity for an outing with other boys and girls at Camp Clifton.

The county Extension Service 4-H agent, Jack Sommers, said the 35-mile trip to Camp Clifton, near John Bryan State Park and Yellow Springs in Greene County, will give the youngsters an opportunity to participate in a broad program of nature study, campfires, swimming, craft work, hikes and group living next summer.

The camps are planned and supervised by the Extension Service staffs in the counties the camp serves.

Two senior camps for high school age 4-H members are scheduled for June 22-24 and Aug. 3-5. The junior camp, for 11-13-year-olds, is slated for July 2-7, and the beginners camp, for 9-10-year-old first-year, members will be Aug. 6-9.

U. S. troop level dips to 25,500

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops strength in Vietnam dropped to 25,500 men last week, well below the ceiling of 27,000 men President Nixon set for Dec. 1, the U.S. Command announced today.

This represented a drop of 2,500 men in the week of Nov. 24-30, the largest weekly decrease since 3,200 men left in the week of Aug. 11-17.

The Defense Department said last week that troop withdrawals would continue on a limited basis but without any advance announcement. Pentagon officials said this would give the United States more flexibility in the cease-fire negotiations in Paris.

The North West Mounted Police were formed in 1874 to patrol Canada's trackless wilderness.

Collectors meet, elect officers

All the officers of the Central Ohio Gun and Indian Relic Collectors Association were re-elected, but two changes were made in the board of directors in the voting Sunday afternoon during the weekend show at the Fairground herd. Less than 50 of the association's 2,000 members were at the election meeting.

Kenneth Craig was re-elected president; Homer Don Wilson Jr., vice president; Coyt A. Stookey, secretary-treasurer; Nancy Stookey, assistant secretary.

In the two changes made in the board of directors, J.W. (Boot) Sears was elected to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Kenneth Lane, who has moved from the county, and Robert Case was named to succeed Walter McLean, who asked that he not be considered for re-election. However, because of his long service on the board and his interest in the association, he was made an honorary member for life. Re-elected members of the board are collectors in addition to interests in antiques, guns and Indian relics. Participation in the weekend show was about normal for a winter session, the records disclose. It has been designated for guns and Indian relics and there were many fine collections there. But, running true to form, there also were displays of many other collections, from coins, stamps and books to china and glassware.

Craig explained that the tightening of the gun laws has shrunk the gun shows considerably, but commented that those who do display them for sale or trade dispose of them "in a hurry and at a good price."

There was only one vacant display table in the Mahan and Fine Arts buildings and the enclosed breezeway between them. It had been reserved but was not taken.

The monthly shows are not for the outside flea market during the winter, but 17 stands were there for this one — and were doing a good business in buying, selling and trading.

Miss Edna Bowyer, Warren County recorder, was elected president of the association for the 1972-73 year.
